On stage at last, in their long-awaited Arts and Leisure Centre, director Udo Mueller and the Elk Point and District Community Choir offered a sumptuous buffet of memorable music at their 19th Annual Spring Concert last Friday evening.

Memorable melodies, new venue for Elk Point Community Choir

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point and District Community Choir took to the stage of the Elk Point Arts and Leisure Centre for the first time Friday night, as they presented their 19th annual spring concert.

The work of composers and songwriters ranging from Bach to Robert Burns and from Marty Robbins to Andrew Lloyd Webber combined for an evening of memorable melodies much enjoyed by the sizeable audience.

The choir started out with the gentle harmony of "Music Speaks," then upped the tempo to the high notes and lilting rhythms of "And So Did I." "Come In From the Firefly Darkness" evoked visions of a summer night, while "The Salley Gardens' Red, Red Rose" brought to life the immortal words of Scottish poet Robert Burns. "Oh, Won't You Sit Down," was based on a traditional spiritual.

Pianist Deanna Easthope and page turner Elizabeth Orr then turned over the keyboard to Barb Buryn, who accompanied the ladies of the choir in "Misty Morning."

Buryn is the vice president of the choir, and had the pleasant duty of presenting two choir bursaries, the first to Jordan Sieben, who spent two years with the choir and appeared in two dinner theatre presentations. He will be pursuing a career in music education. The second bursary went to Stephen Lind, a St. Paul Regional High School student who plays guitar, piano and trumpet, and will be advancing his studies of piano in the fall.

Linda Peters accompanied a quartet made up of Aaron Petersen, Udo Mueller, Alan Kostyniuk and Garry Townsend as they sang the Tim McGraw/Faith Hill hit, "It's Your Love," and Andrew Lloyd Weber's "Love Changes Everything."

The men of the choir returned to the stage with Marty Robbins' 1957 rock-and-roll hit, "A White Sports Coat, and were joined by the ladies in a much older number, "A Gentle Alleluia" by Johann Sebastian Bach.

The choir wound up the evening with an 11-minute-plus medley of ABBA hits, including "Fernando," "Mamma Mia" and "The Dancing Queen," with director Udo Mueller and his crew clearly, in the words of one ABBA song, having the time of their lives as they earned a standing ovation from the appreciative audience.

Volunteers make short work of downtown clean-up

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Close to 30 volunteers of all ages answered the town of Elk Point's call for assistance with cleaning up the community last Thursday.

For more than two hours, residents equipped with rubber gloves and big black trash bags scoured vacant lots, creek bed, parks, fence lines, hedges and shrubbery for debris that has accumulated over the fall and winter.

A mound of filled bags grew at the Elk Point Municipal Library as tired but triumphant trash-hunters returned to their starting point to enjoy the season's first barbecue, with all the trimmings.

Elk Point's faithful Friends of the Library also enjoyed the supper, in recognition of their ongoing efforts to assist the community.

Two wins good start for Sox season

Anything is possible in have a game plan it's good baseball and anytime you plan to have a plan B ready.

The plan was to have rookie Dylan Berg pitch up to the Baseball Alberta allowed league maximum of 100 pitches on Saturday when the Sox met Camrose in the first game of the season, but the youngest Berg Brother must had the rookie jitters, walked the first four batters and got the hook earlier than anyone had anticipated.

Evan Joly, coming in cold walked his first batter, but then warmed up quickly and chopped down next three. Plan B was to save

Evan for Sunday, but there's an old saying in baseball, "never save a pitcher for tomorrow, cause tomorrow

it might rain" and as it turned out Evan was doing such a great job, that plan was scrapped, Evan going for the next four innings allowing only two more runs, the Sox meanwhile getting a nice rally going in the third inning up 6 to 4, then adding a few more in the fifth, sixth and seventh, Dustin Berg coming in to chuck for two innings, Brett Romanovich closing this one out, the final score Sox 15, Camrose Cubs 8.

The MVP of the game Evan Joly with two singles, a double, and 2 RBIs. Ben Blacklock with a double, Matt Nyberg with a double and two RBIs. Tanner Corbeil with a double, single and a RBI.

The boys hit the field again for the second game this time against Cold Lake. Dustin Berg got the call to the mound and had a bit of a rough start, not only was he a beat up from the first game when he took a foul ball off the beak, he gave up a deep one out of the park from the second Cold Lake batter to the plate. "Bergie" shook it off, battled back for the next four innings, allowing only four runs, the Sox leading at this point 7 to 4, Reliever Mike Desjarlais shut down the Cardinals bats, then Matt Nyberg finished them off, the final score, 7 to 5 for the Sox.

A great job on the hill for with six Ks and at the dish for Dustin Berg, who was awarded the MVP in this one with two singles and a RBI double, Brett Romanovich and Evan Joly each with single.

Anytime you can win two out of three on a weekend your doing well, the Sox now facing off against Heisler on Sunday, the top team in tier one last year, young Dylan Berg getting a second call to the mound, but trouble was brewing early, a few bobbles in the field, plus trouble at the plate, the Sox stranding runners time and time again, the score after four, 7 to 1 in favor of Heisler.

This one looked like it was over, three innings left, Mike Desjarlais now pitching in relief and is up for the task, he shut the door on Heisler, no more runs would score, the Sox, a superstitious bunch, would put on the rally caps and touch the magic bat. It looks silly but sometimes all you need is a little faith, in the bottom of the sixth they picked up four runs. Bottom of the seventh still down by two, two runners on, Dustin Berg comes off the bench and drives one down the third base line, one run in, a wild pitch another run in and the game is tied. Third base coach Lorn Berg gives the sign, the old squeeze play is called, Jordan Croteau lays down a perfect bunt, a over-throw at first and the Sox win. Mike Desjarlais the MVP for this one. The Sox off to a great start for the season 3 and 0 will have the long weekend off, then travel to Heisler the following weekend for a three game series.

Coming up this week, don't forget Minor Hockey Annual Meeting is on tonight at the A. G. Ross Arena at 7 p.m.

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. "Baseball is just the great American pastime. I think it's the joy of feeling part of the game more than other sports." nuclear power generation in Alberta

As part of the Alberta government's comprehensive review and study of the prospect of nuclear power generation in Alberta, the province is committed to consulting with Albertans on this issue.

In 2008, a Nuclear Power Expert Panel was created with a mandate to fully examine all aspects of nuclear power including environmental, health and safety issues, waste management and comparisons with other electricity generation options in Alberta. The Expert Panel has now submitted its findings.

The Alberta government recognizes there are many diverse perspectives and views on nuclear energy and would like to hear from all Albertans via a comprehensive online survey or by paper copy. The survey will remain open until June 1, 2009.

Visit www.energy.alberta.ca to review the Expert Panel Report and complete the survey, or for more information call toll-free 310-0000 then 780-427-0265.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Ball, ball diamonds, bicycle for two

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES IN THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF MAY 12 IN...

1984

Elk Point's first annual RCMP Ball was an elaborate event, with scarlet-coated members of the force and elegantly attired ladies opening the evening with a grand march. The problem of out-of-town merchants bringing in large quantities of items for sale at lower prices than their local competitors was the subject of debate at the chamber of commerce meeting.

1989

A crunched car with a lumpy body bag beside it graced the lawn of F. G. Miller High School one morning, as part of a campaign by Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) to send a message to impaired drivers. Hopes of being able to use the new ball diamonds were dashed, with signs erected prohibiting use of the facilities until the grass planted the previous fall had time to become established.

1994

Foot-sore fundraisers taking part in the Elk Point and District Lions Walk for Sight, with Dixie Wood winning the trophy for the most raised by an individual walker, Mike O'Neill taking the School Challenge trophy to F. G. Miller and Andrew Boddy of E-Can winning the Oil Patch Challenge. Longtime volunteer John Zacharuk was presented with a plaque from the town for his efforts to keep the community tidy.

1999

"Crime Prevention: It's in Your Neighbourhood" was the theme of a Crime Prevention Week feature spearheaded by the Elk Point Community Advisory Policing Committee. Elk Point Chamber of Commerce had plans for a busy summer, starting off with their community-wide garage sale, held in conjunction with the Elk Point Auto Club Show and Shine.

2004

Elk Point and District Lions raised over $2,100 with their Walk for Sight, with participants including visually challenged teen Colin Routhier, who piloted a bicycle built for two around the course. Elk Point Community Choir wound up their 16th season with two hours of glorious song at their spring concert.

Our sovereign's birthday

In Canada, the celebration of Victoria Day occurs every year on the Monday prior to May 25. Therefore, this year, that Monday would be May 18. It is the official celebration in Canada of the birthdays of Queen Victoria and Queen Elizabeth II.

Victoria, queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India, was born on May 24, 1819. She ascended the throne after the death of her uncle George IV in 1837 when she was only 18. She ruled until her death in 1901 when her son Edward VII became king of England. May 24, Queen Victoria's birthday, was declared a holiday by the Legislature of the Province of Canada in 1845.

Victoria Day is officially the Sovereign's birthday. Even though future reigning monarchs after Queen Victoria had different birthdays, it is still recognized that on Victoria Day, we remember the current monarch's birthday. For example, Elizabeth II was born April 21, 1926. Therefore, the exact date of the celebration does not usually mark the real birthday of the sovereign. What is important to remember on this Victoria Day, is that Queen Victoria was the Queen when Canada became a nation in 1867 and Queen Elizabeth II is our current Queen. So yes, it is good to celebrate their birthdays on Monday, May 18, 2009.

Speaking of queens, I found a cute fairy-tale story about a queen.

Once upon a time there was a beautiful queen with a magnificent queendom. She enjoyed being out with her people, and one of her favorite activities was to go to the Royal Park and play on the swings. One evening she had been pumping hard on the swing trying to go as high as she could so she could see the curve of the earth. After becoming tired, she returned home to her palace and took off her crown, she realized with horror that its huge, priceless jewel had fallen out. Oh, the queen was so distraught! This priceless jewel was very important to her. She sent everyone in the castle to the park to search, but no one found the jewel.

So she sent out a proclamation to the entire queendom, notifying everyone that the jewel was missing. She offered a handsome reward to whoever could find the jewel and return it to her within thirty days. She also proclaimed that if someone found the jewel and DIDN'T return it to her within thirty days, she'd have them killed.

The story goes on and a young man found the jewel but he waited to return it on the 31st day. When he arrived, he asked to speak to the queen. He said, "It's about the jewel," whereupon he was ushered directly in to see the queen. She was anxious for news about the jewel. He said, "I have it right here, and I've come to bring it back to you."

This pretty much took the queen's breath away. "When did you find it?" she asked. "Just a few days after you lost it," he said.

Again, she couldn't believe his response. "Didn't you read the proclamation?" she gasped.

"Yes, I did."

Now the queen was completely puzzled. "You realize, then, that had you returned the jewel yesterday I would have rewarded you handsomely."

"Yes, I realize that."

"Then you must also realize that since you waited until today, I can have you killed."

"Yes, I read that on the proclamation too."

Shaking her head in disbelief, the queen asked, "Then WHY did you wait until today?" The young man explained that when he found the jewel, he wondered about his motivation for returning it right away. He didn't want to be motivated by the hope for a reward. But he also didn't want to be motivated to return the jewel because he was afraid not to. He wanted to return the jewel because it was the right thing to do.

Speaking of the right thing to do, it is important to know why we have a holiday this coming Monday. We are celebrating the Queen's birthday. Happy Birthday wishes are going out to our sovereign.

Idea people needed for fun festival

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

After a very successful event last year, Elk Point Chamber of Commerce president Sandy Smith is seeking out new ideas for the family fun festival she plans to hold in conjunction with the Elk Point Auto Club's annual Show and Shine on June 6.

"I need idea people," she says. "We have some ideas, but we need more."

The goal of the festival is both to provide added attractions for visitors to Elk Point on Show and Shine day, and to fill the day with fun activities for the whole family.

All those with suggestions for family-friendly events and added attractions that will make June 6 an afternoon to remember are invited to join Smith at the Elk Point Municipal Library on Thursday evening at 7 p.m.

All ideas are welcome, so please come and share.

Elks Wilderness Park gets a spring cleaning

By LAWRENCE PIDLUZNY

Elk Point BPO Elks

On a nice warm and sunny Sunday, the 3rd of May, nine loyal Elks Lodge No. 460 members came out to prepare the Elk Point Elks Wilderness Park at Kehewin Lake for another summer of camping, fishing and just plain socializing.

Some of the major tasks involved the removing of dead-fall, cutting up of firewood, repairing various facilities and campsites, preparing the water supply and pump and so on.

Lodge members Lorn Berg, Don Brooker, Allan Berg, Don Pilisko, Ron Fraess, Michael Chubey, Lawrence Pidluzny, Bill Schuhmacher and Marshel Pelech spent the better part of three hours with chain saws, quads, tractors with front-end loaders, and other tools of mass destruction getting the park ready for opening on May 11.

This year, with the hard work of Don Anderson, we added a new campsite where the woodpile used to be.

We welcome day use of the park for picnics, swimming, frolicking on the beach and the like with no charge.

We plan to be open to the public until the end of the Labour Day weekend in September. Hope to see you there!
